To whom it may concern,

We engaged geekIT through recommendation and we were not disappointed.

geekIT were able to effortlessly translate our brief for an e-learning animation into a story board that made sense . Their combined eclectic skills offers more than just digital solutions, they have a consultative approach and are able to demonstrate how an online project can make business sense.

We found the experience enjoyable. They were generous with their time and passionate about technology.

I highly recommend using geekIT for any project big or small.
